The tongue-twister that was VK2FSJE is no more. Finally the replacement, upgraded callsign has come through. Congrats to you Simon, now VK2PWR.

The new call has already been on the air (between me doing this post and when Simon received it), and of course it has been used where Simon had not been able to "play" before. 20m

Now we can start planning for some 23cm activity, and we are both trying to find a decent kit to put together.

Have fun with your new bands and power Simon,

Cheers
